

Argentina! Argentina!

By Sophia and Leah

Food

The foods of Argentina are mostly delicacies from Europe. Few of the Argentinean foods are made from their country. Argentines eat lots of meat and often eat out.

Argentines eat light breakfasts and have lunch in late afternoon. They have dinner that lasts until midnight.

A popular dish from Argentina is parrilla which is made from meat over hot coal ahsahdo.

Bordering Countries

The bordering states of Argentina are Chile, Uruguay, Brazil, Paraguay, and Bolivia.

The North Area

Some of the landforms are grasslands, forests, and rivers. In Argentina a lot of the rivers swell with rain and flood the swampy lowlands.

Language

The language that they speak is Spanish. I think that Spanish is interesting.

Population Density

There are 34 people in each square mile.

Urban Population

There are 88% people in the city population. 88 out of 100 live in the city.

Animals

The animals in Argentina are jaguars, tapirs, marsh deer, monkeys, and other wild animals that live there. Small Indian groups go to the forest and camp.

In the summer millions and millions of penguins, whales, and white tailed deers live there too.

Horses live there too. Gauchos are the cowboys.

Waterfalls

The waterfalls are big in Argentina.

Soccer in Argentina

In Argentina soccer is very important.

Other Interesting Facts

Argentina is the eighth largest country in the world. Argentina is a very beautiful place. Gauchos are the same as cowboys. Pampas is the plains. Argentina is a great place for waterfalls. The Pacific Ocean beaches are great too. The seas are beautiful. I would love to go to Argentina. I like Argentina!
